

Southern Obedience Dog Club

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Kennel Cough Warning

Several cases of kennel cough have been reported in Victoria.

Kennel Cough is highly contagious between dogs, with the main symptom being a persistent and forceful cough.

Members with dogs who display the symptoms of Kennel Cough are encouraged to contact their veterinarian for advice as we encourage you to keep affected dogs away from all other dogs during the contagious period.

If you are concerned about Kennel Cough we recommend you contact your veterinarian for further information and advice.

(Feb 2019)